AREA OF BUSINESS

A leading Italian producer of fruit purées, available in practical single-use and 'on the go' packaging, including pouches and trays. Thanks to our range of technologies and packaging materials, we can offer our domestic and international customers sugar-free and additive-free fruit purées. Our products are extremely versatile, which makes them suitable for various sales channels, including large-scale retail, catering and hospitality industry, and vending. The group also produces the three key ingredients popular among those following a plant-based diet: tofu, seitan and tempeh.

MAIN ACTIVITIES

Producing and marketing single-serving trays and pouches.

MAIN OBJECTIVES

Many of the recipes that we offer our customers under our Frullà brand and as private labels feature fruit purées made from high-quality, readily available raw materials sourced from the African countries participating in the project. We are looking for local partners who can supply fresh fruit and intend to support them in setting up production lines to turn local raw materials into purée, which will be stored in aseptic drums.
